

NEWS

News Release: September 3, 2019

Contact: Matthew Kent

mkent@glynncounty-ga.gov

912.554.7409

F.J. Torras Causeway Remains Open

GLYNN COUNTY, Ga.- The F.J. Torras Causeway to St. Simons Island is NOT closed. Glynn County will only close the causeway in the event that it becomes dangerous or flooded. The ability to move to and from St. Simons Island is important for the public to evacuate and for public safety to respond as long as possible.

The Jekyll Island Causeway is closed as of 8:00 p.m. tonight. This is the decision of the Jekyll Island Authority, not Glynn County. The Sidney Lanier Bridge will also close as of 8:00 p.m. tonight per a decision from the Georgia Department of Transportation.

If you feel unsafe in the area, please know that there is a 10:00 p.m. 6:00 a.m. curfew for the evacuation Zone A, St. Simons Island and the entire City of Brunswick. If you are unable to leave your home during the storm, please make sure that you have all the necessary supplies for your disaster kit and shelter in place.